

CHANCE GOVERNORS REPLY TO SULZER

Criticism of Board Are Unjust
and Contrary to Facts,
They Say.

ASK HEARING IN ALBANY

Members Offer to Cooperate
With Executive in Effort to Improve Methods.

The governors of the Stock Exchange replied to the message of Governor Sulzer to the Legislature on Stock Exchange reform in a letter to him yesterday in which, in a brief statement, they took exception to the Governor's characterization of the government of the exchange and asked that the Governor appoint a time for receiving a committee of the exchange to give its viewpoint and to express its desire to cooperate in forthcoming legislation. The one point of the Governor's message which is mentioned in the Stock Exchange reply is his criticism of the Stock Exchange management. The Governor in part said:

"The men who have been entrusted with the power to regulate the operations of these exchanges have, by their conduct, displayed inexcusable laxity in their duties to the public, frequently surprising incapacity to conduct institutions properly, and again an inexcusable lack of the just and equitable principles of trade which they profess. Since they have failed or refused to exercise the power to prevent such clearly vicious abuses, the authority of the State must be invoked to exercise that power."

It was solely to this part of Governor Sulzer's special message that the board of governors of the exchange, referred to in the declaration, "that they feel very strongly that the Governor's characterization of the government of the exchange is unjustified by the facts and, with all due respect, earnestly protest against it."

The abuses in the operation of the Stock Exchange laid before the Legislature by the Governor in the points his message outlined manipulation and fictitious transactions, perverted short selling, trading against customers' orders, hypochondria of customers' stocks, insolvency, bucking the fact statements, call money interest rates and incorporation were not mentioned in the Stock Exchange note to the Governor. The presumption drawn yesterday was that these matters will be taken up with the Governor by the committee who will be appointed to wait upon him as soon as a reply to the letter is received from Governor Sulzer.

The letter of the exchange is as follows:

"I beg to communicate to you the following statement of the governing committee of the New York Stock Exchange."

"At a meeting of the governing committee of the New York Stock Exchange held this day the following statement was adopted:

"The message of Gov. Sulzer has been considered by the committee. The governing committee have always endeavored to surround the dealings in securities on the exchange with the restrictions and limitations that experience has suggested which have been deemed from time to time to be practicable and enforceable."

"They have continuously sought and are now seeking for any and all means that will enforce just and equitable principles of trade and protect the public."

"They feel very strongly that the Governor's characterization of the government of the exchange is unjustified by the facts, and, with all due respect, earnestly protest against it."

"They respectfully request that the Governor receive a committee of the exchange at an early date to present the views of the exchange and to convey to him the assurance of their desire to cooperate in the consideration and enactment of legislation which will further promote the highest standards of trade and correct dealing."

"Will you not kindly designate the time when you will receive our committee?"

Respectfully,
JAMES B. MARION,
President.

Members of the exchange yesterday were favorably impressed by the Governor's message. The belief was widely expressed that the recommendations of the exchange will be adopted and that the Governor had wisely avoided the shoal of dangerous radicalism. The rank and file of the exchange membership is ready to cooperate in any measures drawn in a friendly spirit which will conserve good business and make for greater frankness in the dealings of the exchange with the public. It was widely observed yesterday that what is most desired by the members of the exchange is the accomplishment of such changes in the body that will restore to it the fullest confidence of the public, and in these they stand ready to cooperate."

The measures advocated by the Governor in his message, it was pointed out yesterday by members, are exactly those which the majority of the board of governors of the exchange have always stood for and are just as anxious to see brought about as are the legislators at Albany. Outside manipulation of the stock market, tending to deceive and undermine public confidence they have decided and welcome an efficient remedy to prevent. Likewise perverted short selling and other dealing of like discreditable nature the governors have been constantly on the watch to root out and punish. Gov. Sulzer's position in relation to recommending incorporation is well thought of by the brokers, who are decidedly of the view that it would reduce their disciplinary powers."

SULZER TO PREPARE BILLS.

Governor Will Outline Stock Exchange Reforms Suggested.

ALBANY, Jan. 28.—The Stock Exchange bills which will be introduced in the Legislature to carry out the suggestions made by the Governor will be drawn by Governor Sulzer himself. This much was made known in one of the several public conferences of the Governor this morning. But it is not yet possible to persuade him to indicate whether one of his bills will provide for the incorporation of the Stock Exchange.

After he has finished with his drafting the Governor will consult with the Legislature on matters of form, because his experience has been with Washington rather than Albany legislation in recent years.

For the present the chief cause for comment in the matter of the Stock Exchange message lies in the extreme coolness with which it was received. It excited no comment, it really commanded little interest. It was adopted as one more newspaper crusade to be tolerated rather than approved, and the chief concern of the members of the Legislature who would comment upon it, and they were few, was to make it clear that what pleased them about the document was the extreme moderation of its tone. Every one was particularly anxious to have it understood in New York that nothing ill advised, hasty or over-draught was in the least contemplated.

A campaign of acceleration for this legislation is expected. It is by no means certain that some legislation will finally be passed, but as for any real sentiment in favor of legislative action it does not exist in Albany, has not existed, and so far as it is now possible to see, will not exist. Something harmless, but a reasonable sop to those who have agitated the question, is now what the situation seems to promise.

The outstanding fact about the Stock Exchange message to-day is that it has fallen flat, and already there are unmistakable signs that those who are most responsible for its existence are industriously but in no means hopelessly endeavoring to warm over the excitement on which the message was originally floated and convince a suspicious and unsympathetic Legislature that there is a real demand for any kind of interference with Wall Street at Albany.

Bills providing for the incorporation of stock exchanges and to repeal the exemption regarding interest upon call loans for $500 or over secured by collateral were introduced to-day by Assemblyman Louis Cuvillier of Manhattan.

The first bill amends the banking law by providing for the incorporation of stock exchanges and placing them under the control and supervision of the Banking Department. Fifty or more persons may form such an exchange.

The other bill repeals section 379 of the general business law relative to interest on advances secured by collateral. The section repealed provides that in any case where advances of money repayable on demand to an amount not less than $500 are made upon warehouse receipts, bills of lading, certificates of stock, certificates of deposit, bills of exchange, bonds or other negotiable instruments, pledged as collateral security for repayment of the advances, it shall be lawful to receive and collect as compensation for making the advances any sum to be agreed upon in writing by the parties.

SULZER TO HOLD HEARING.

Governor Will Receive Committee From Stock Exchange.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 28.—Gov. Sulzer today received a telegram from the New York Stock Exchange asking him to receive a committee from that exchange and he wired back that he would be glad to confer with such a committee. The Governor said he had received a number of telegrams regarding his special message to the Legislature on the Stock Exchange reforms, many of them from "big bankers and merchants" and he said that one from Theodore F. Myers, a New York banker and former City Controller and member of the Stock Exchange.

"The justice, impartiality and good sense of our message are highly commended by all. Congratulations."

PRISONER SAYS HE'S REAL G. A. KIMMEL

Thought He Was Dying and Told of His Relatives in Niles, Mich.

HANNIBAL, Mo., Jan. 28.—A confession that he is the original George A. Kimmel, whose identity was the contention in the celebrated Kimmel vs. White New York Life Insurance Company case last summer, has been made by a prisoner in the Pike county jail at Bowling Green, Mo. Officers declare his story is undoubtedly true and say evidence they have received from relatives, physicians and other corroborates it.

The man, who gave his name upon his arrest as William W. Hannon, made his confession on January 12, when he expected to die, having been seriously ill of pneumonia. He is recovering his health.

He was arrested on January 9 for forgery at Louisiana, Mo., and taken to Bowling Green to await trial. He sent for Sheriff W. P. Hawkins and told him as the end was near he wanted to make a confession. Concerned about his clothing, he said, was a note identifying him, giving the names of relatives. He told Hawkins he was confessing to keep from being buried in the potter's field. A cousin, Dr. Woods of St. Joseph, Mo., and a niece, Mrs. Harry Fox of Niles, Mich., were among the relatives mentioned in his story.

The man, who gave his name upon his arrest as William W. Hannon, made his confession on January 12, when he expected to die, having been seriously ill of pneumonia. He is recovering his health.

The prisoner said that a lapse of memory resulting from a blow on the head was the cause of his knowing little of what has happened in the last fourteen years. This accounts, he says, for his not making himself known when he first came to Niles, Mich., where the litigation concerning his identity.

E. B. Hardiker, editor of the Pike county (Missouri) News, visited Henry Thurman in jail. Mr. Hardiker formerly resided at Niles, Mich., and knew Mrs. Kimmel, mother of George A. Kimmel. Thurman had refused to see any one, but when Sheriff Hawkins told him that Hardiker would like to see him he instantly remembered the name and consented to see him. He greeted Hardiker by saying: "You used to live across the street from my mother," which was correct, although Kimmel was not living at Niles during the time Hardiker was there.

They spoke of several persons who lived there and of events that happened at the time the supposed Kimmel was correct in his facts.

GOV. WILSON CONFERS WITH LEGISLATORS

They Decide on Jury Reform
Bill and Talk Over Other Matters.

HEARINGS PROVIDED FOR

Governor Guest of Senators at Evening Banquet in Atlantic City.

TAKESON, N. J., Jan. 28.—Jury reform, grade crossings and the matter of a constitutional convention were discussed this afternoon by Gov. Wilson and the Democratic members of both branches of the Legislature. The Governor in his address to the legislators said he thought they should take up first the matter on which the Democrats appeared to be in accord. This programme contemplated a discussion of his corporation bills, but they were not reached because he and the Senators had to hurry away to catch a train for Atlantic City.

Senator Davis, the majority leader, said that the discussion was unlimited, but that no obstructive differences of opinion were met with. A resolution was adopted to frame a jury reform bill which will take the power of drawing Grand Jurors out of the hands of the Sheriff, but it was not determined whether power be lodged with a jury commission or with the Supreme Court Justice sitting in the county.

Gov. Wilson introduced the discussions by reading from his message to the Legislature. When he came to the matter of eliminating grade crossings he said he wished to see the power of directing such eliminations lodged with the Public Utilities Commission, but would make it mandatory upon that body to draw the eliminations. It was decided, however, that the bill to be drawn should make the various eliminations discretionary with the commission and that it should provide that the work be done at the expense of the railroads.

A constitutional convention was opposed by the Senators who came from the more sparsely populated counties unless there is some guarantee that the present basis of representation in the Senate, one Senator from each county, shall not be disturbed. It has been suggested that once a constitutional convention was called the delegates would overthrow the present equity of representation in the Senate and make it dependent upon population. It was agreed that the Governor should be made up as to insure no disturbing of the present Senatorial system.

Senator Davis said that the main features of the corporation bills seem to meet the ideas of the rank and file of the people of the State and that he believed their passage would not be hindered. Gov. Wilson suggested that hearings be held, but urged that they be held as soon as possible so as not to delay the passage of the bills. Consequently Senator Davis as chairman of the Judiciary Committee, to which two of the most important bills have been referred, will issue a call for a hearing tomorrow. The bills will be taken up next week at a second conference of the Governor and the Democratic members.

Gov. Wilson went to Atlantic City tonight as the guest of the New Jersey Senators at a dinner at the Marlborough-Blenheim. The affair was strictly private, even the secret service men with the Governor being excluded. The Governor expected to be bantered in a good natured way and said jokingly that he would accommodate his remarks to the exigencies of the occasion. He did not expect to make his speech public.

NIGHT BOARDWALK TRAMP.

Gov. Wilson and Friends Exercise After Banquet.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Jan. 28.—It is understood that at the dinner given here tonight to Gov. Wilson by the New Jersey Senators, the Governor's only remarks of a political significance were those describing the prominence into which the State of Wisconsin has come through the personality of Senator La Follette in urging his various reforms. He then spoke of New Jersey's progress in keeping up with the demands of the time and predicted that the passage of the new corporation acts would place her in the vanguard of progressive States.

Much amusement was created by the reading of make believe telegrams from the Governor to the President and Vice President. Mr. Bryan's was one of the first to be read.

Shortly before midnight the Governor and a number of the Senators started for a walk up the boardwalk.

CANFIELD'S DAUGHTER SUES.

She Elopé With a Dartmouth Student and Now Wants a Divorce.

Richard Canfield's daughter, Grace, who eloped three years ago, when she was 18, and married Martin Edward Hannan, once a Dartmouth student, who had a record as an athlete in college yesterday asked Supreme Court Justice Greenbaum to appoint a guardian ad litem to bring a suit for a divorce in her behalf.

In her petition Mrs. Hannan said that she is visiting at 325 West Eighty-fifth street, and is 18 years old. Through her counsel, Charles C. Lockwood of 35 Nassau street, she asked that Richard P. Lyon, who is associated with Mr. Lockwood, be named as the guardian.

Mrs. Hannan's elopement came on the eve of a proposed visit to Europe to finish her education. Hannan, who was employed by a brokerage firm in Providence, R. I., met Miss Canfield at a social affair there. Not long after they they eloped to Attleboro, Mass. Canfield withheld his blessing for a time, but finally gave it, and the estate goes to the children of the daughters, Mrs. Pauline Dinkelmann, Mrs. Helena Hesse, Mrs. Matilda Roswell and Mrs. Anna Laughlin.

Each daughter received $10,000 in cash. In explaining why he did not provide for his sons, the testator said he had amply provided for them in their lifetime.

GERTRUDE H. THOMAS, who died on March 27, 1911, left an estate of $172,492, of which her nephew, Thomas W. Lockwood of Washington, D. C., got $157,000.

ROBERT T. PETERBONE, who died at Wyoming, Pa., on January 17, 1911, left a personal estate of $49,315, but he had debts of $111,500, consisting of notes and mortgages on real estate.

DEMOCRATS AT ODDS AS TO PHILIPPINES

Government Cannot Shirk Its Responsibility There, Says
Sherley of Kentucky.

JONES SURPRISES HOUSE

Says Filipinos Had Spaniards
Whipped When the United States Stepped In.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Developments in the House to-day showed plainly that notwithstanding the declaration for the independence of the Philippines in the Baltimore platform the Democratic leaders are by no means in accord on this question.

Replying to a speech made by Representative William A. Jones of Virginia, author of the bill granting to the Filipinos an independent government, Representative Sherley of Kentucky, another Democratic leader, said that this Government had undertaken a responsibility in the Philippines that it could not shirk and that he was not in sympathy with the movement to fix a time when the United States should turn over the affairs of the archipelago to the natives.

"I am willing to grant the Filipinos independence when they show themselves capable of maintaining a stable government," declared Mr. Sherley. "I am not prepared to say when that time shall have arrived, and not being able to span the future with any happy bridges of thought I am unwilling to say legislatively that upon such a day at such an hour such a thing shall happen."

Representative Jones, who as chairman of the Insular Committee will handle the Philippine bills in the new Congress, made a declaration that appeared to startle the House when he said that the Philippines had practically driven the Spaniards out of the islands when Dewey sailed into Manila Bay and destroyed the Spanish fleet on May 1, 1898.

"The Filipinos had captured everything outside of Manila. If they had been left to their own devices they would have won their independence a few months before we came with our big ships."

Responding to a question by Representative Longworth of Ohio Mr. Jones admitted that he was not advised as to the attitude of the military forces toward the question of Philippine independence.

"I cannot speak for the President-elect," said Mr. Jones, who recently had a conference on the subject with Gov. Wilson. "I will say, however, that the President-elect as a Democrat and a man of honor could hardly take a position in opposition to the independence of the Philippines."

Some of the Democrats and practically all of the Republicans applauded Mr. Sherley's declaration that this Government has undertaken a responsibility in the Philippines as a "law defying, self-interested oligarchy" which had plunged the islands into a "dark night" of Congress and defeated the ends of justice.

BILL AGAINST VICE IN FLATS.

Wagner Measure Aims to Protect Apartment House Tenants.

ALBANY, Jan. 28.—A code amendment to make effective efforts to dislodge vice from tenement and apartment houses in New York City was introduced to-day by Senator Robert F. Wagner.

"This bill will have the effect of practically suppressing vice in tenement and apartment houses," said Senator Wagner. "It provides an amendment to the Code of Civil Procedure in relation to proceedings to dispossess tenants so as to permit corporations organized for the suppression of vice and which are subject to taxation by the State Board of Charities to serve notice upon the owner or landlord of the premises to make an application for the removal of the person or persons occupying or occupying the same."

Under the provisions of the bill the landlord is to be held responsible for the removal of the person or persons occupying the premises unless he is notified by the State Board of Charities to make application for such removal.

HENRY W. BORTON, a silk merchant, who died on January 26, made bequests aggregating $100,000 in his will. He named his widow, Mrs. Pauline Borton, as residuary legatee, and gave her the property and household effects at Independence avenue, and 25th street. Upon the death of the widow, Mrs. Borton, the children of the daughters, Mrs. Pauline Dinkelmann, Mrs. Helena Hesse, Mrs. Matilda Roswell and Mrs. Anna Laughlin, each daughter received $10,000 in cash.

He explained why he did not provide for his sons, the testator said he had amply provided for them in their lifetime.

Name for New Cathedral Chapel.

The trustees of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine yesterday approved plans for the cathedral chapel that was given some time since by Miss Clementine Purcell. The chapel is to be known as St. Martin of Tours and will cost from $100,000 to $150,000. It will be erected on the south or epistle side, adjoining the chapel in memory of the late Bishop Potter. Churches deciding to erect parts of the nave may select the names from the churches or from other sources.

TO ASK HOW ROGUES GALLERY IS FILLED

Curran Committee Hears Becker,
Hyde, Cummins and Reich-mann Are Not There.

NO PHOTOGRAPHS TAKEN

Mrs. Dorian Tells District Attorney She Can't Explain
Hotel Man's Absence.

Inspector Joseph Faurot, the Police Department's finger print and Bertillon expert, who is now in command of the Detective Bureau, will be recalled to the witness stand in Curran committee to-morrow and questioned with regard to a report current yesterday that Lieut. Charles Becker, ex-City Chamberlain Charles H. Hyde, William J. Cummins and Joseph B. Reichmann, former president of the Carnegie Trust Company, are none of them represented in the Rogues Gallery by photographs, Bertillon measurements or finger prints. Although all three methods are supposed to be used to furnish the police departments of this and other cities with data for the identification of those once convicted of felony.

When Inspector Faurot was before the committee last week he told of the order of the Police Commissioner, supposed to have been based upon a letter written by the Mayor, that all photographs and other records taken of persons not convicted of a felony should be destroyed and no more records of this sort taken. The dividing line, so far as it appeared in Inspector Faurot's testimony, was between those convicted of a felony and those not convicted of a felony.

Inspector Faurot testified that the photographs and finger prints and measurements of convicted felons could be taken only by the courtesy of the Sheriff. No application to the Sheriff has been made, it was said yesterday, for permission to take any of these records of the four men mentioned.

Although the extraordinary Grand Jury has adjourned until February 17, it is more probable that it will be called together again before that time. Foreman Theodore C. Wood was in conference with District Attorney Whitman on Monday and rumors were current yesterday that his visit foreshadowed a reconvening of the body within a few days.

Mrs. Thomas J. Dorian, wife of the former manager of the Avon Hotel, at 124th street and Lexington avenue, was called before the District Attorney again yesterday. She told him that she does not know where her husband is and believes that somebody has persuaded him to go away and stay away while the prosecution of Policeman Eugene Fox and other police matters are pending.

George A. Sipp, proprietor of the same hotel under its name of the Baltic, has told of payments which he says Dorian made to him to turn over to him the hotel for police protection. If Dorian's absence continues it was rumored yesterday that an investigation will be made of these alleged payments with a view to determine whether or not they may be made a subject for Grand Jury investigation, and whether or not there was ground for any charge against Dorian in connection with them.

Friends of Edward J. Newell, formerly attorney for Sipp, who has been indicted for a misdemeanor in connection with Sipp's absence from town at the time he went over into New Jersey, said yesterday that they were working on matters which they expected would develop fresh material for use in an attempt to discredit Sipp's testimony. It is not impossible that the extraordinary Grand Jury, should it be recalled before the Newell case comes up for trial, may take this matter up again.

Sipp spent an hour and a half with District Attorney Whitman in the latter's office yesterday and saw several of the assistants, including Frank Moss, who probably will try the case against Newell. The District Attorney has found other witnesses for use in this case against the policeman, so that he will not have to rely entirely or even largely upon the testimony of Sipp.

Mrs. Sipp is going out of town to-day, but will be back for the Newell trial and before if the District Attorney requires her presence. Her present understanding is that she will not be needed for the Fox trial.

EXECUTOR ACCUSES NEWELL.

Says Lawyer Misrepresented Importance of an Affidavit.

Edward J. Newell, the lawyer indicted in the Sipp case, was accused of misrepresentation yesterday in a proceeding in the Surrogate's Court in which George L. Doty, one of the executors under the will of Henry William Dunham, who died October 4, last, asked to have his name withdrawn from a petition for the probate of the will. Mr. Doty's co-executor under the will, Mr. Henrietta Virginia Carl of New York, L. L. who is the chief legatee.

Mr. Doty said in his application that he signed the petition for probate on the advice of Mr. Newell, who drew it up and who is the counsel for Mrs. Carl. He said he knew that Dunham had been a resident of New Jersey at the time he signed an affidavit stating that he was a resident of New York, but that Newell said this was a matter of no importance. He said he has since learned that it is a matter of the greatest importance, because if the will is upset in New York, Mrs. Carl will be entitled to the entire estate under the New Jersey law, and only half under the law of New York.

Mr. Doty said that he knows the deceased was a resident of New Jersey, because in a suit for divorce brought by Mrs. Carl against Dunham, he described himself as a resident of that State. Mr. Doty says he also has reason to believe that undue influence was practiced by Mrs. Carl, and tells of a prior will in which he was executor but in which Mrs. Carl is not the chief beneficiary. He says he will offer the other will for probate if he can find it.

Inspector Faurot, the Police Department's finger print and Bertillon expert, who is now in command of the Detective Bureau, will be recalled to the witness stand in Curran committee to-morrow and questioned with regard to a report current yesterday that Lieut. Charles Becker, ex-City Chamberlain Charles H. Hyde, William J. Cummins and Joseph B. Reichmann, former president of the Carnegie Trust Company, are none of them represented in the Rogues Gallery by photographs, Bertillon measurements or finger prints.

Although all three methods are supposed to be used to furnish the police departments of this and other cities with data for the identification of those once convicted of felony.

When Inspector Faurot was before the committee last week he told of the order of the Police Commissioner, supposed to have been based upon a letter written by the Mayor, that all photographs and other records taken of persons not convicted of a felony should be destroyed and no more records of this sort taken.

The dividing line, so far as it appeared in Inspector Faurot's testimony, was between those convicted of a felony and those not convicted of a felony.

Inspector Faurot testified that the photographs and finger prints and measurements of convicted felons could be taken only by the courtesy of the Sheriff. No application to the Sheriff has been made, it was said yesterday, for permission to take any of these records of the four men mentioned.

TEXAS THREAT TO WICKERSHAM

Must Explain If He Doesn't Arrest Archbold, Says Garner.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—If the Department of Justice drops the anti-trust suit in Judge Jack's court in Texas after holding up warrants for the arrest of John D. Archbold and other Standard Oil men, Attorney-General Wickersham will be called upon to tell Congress why this was done, according to the declaration to-day of Representative Garner of Texas. "If the prosecution is dropped I propose to demand an explanation," said Garner.

DOG THAT BIT 10 HAD BABIES.

Dr. McLaughlin Urges Victims to Take Pasteur Treatment.

Dr. George E. McLaughlin, a bacteriologist of 41 Crescent avenue, Jersey City, reported to the health authorities yesterday that his examination of the head of the dog which bit ten persons in Jersey City on Sunday showed that the animal had rabies. He advised that all the victims take the Pasteur treatment without delay.

It was said at the Pasteur Institute that five of the Jersey City patients had undergone treatment.

Dr. McLaughlin said last evening that the dog had a "very marked case of rabies." Bacteriologists for the New York Board of Health, who also examined parts of the dog's brain, confirmed Dr. McLaughlin's diagnosis.

Virus for the patients will be furnished by the Jersey City Board of Health, and treatments after the initial treatment are to be given by Dr. Edward Mulvaney of the board.

It was reported that Carlo Cappono, a boy living on Pallade avenue, also was bitten on Sunday. The police are trying to find him. All the victims excepting one woman were children.

DIVORCE FOR PASTOR; WIFE IS IN CANADA

The Rev. B. C. Jones's Sister
Testifies Children Only Kept Couple Together.

A decree nisi has been granted to the Rev. Benjamin Canfield Jones, pastor of the Presbyterian Church of the Redeemer, Paterson, N. J., from his wife, Annie Chisholm Jones. The decree is based on a charge of desertion. The action was not defended.

Mr. Jones married Miss Chisholm on October 19, 1902, when she was pastor of a church in West Chester, Pa. Miss Chisholm was a daughter of Judge J. H. Chisholm of Waterloo, Ont.

According to the testimony Mr. and Mrs. Jones got along together happily until about Christmas 1908, when they had quarrels and Mrs. Jones left her husband. She returned on September 19, 1909, and, according to her husband's story, three days later while he was speaking in his church she left home permanently.

Lillian Jones, a sister of the clergyman, testified that at Christmas time, 1908, her sister-in-law told her she was very unhappy because she no longer was in love with her husband and had not been in love with him for some time. Mrs. Jones said that if it were not for the children she would leave her husband. There are two children, Isabelle, 18 years old, and Margaret, 15 years old. A third child died in infancy.
